

California Trainings:

March 18-22, 2009
Sept. 30-October 4, 2009

New York Trainings:

May 13-17, 2009
December 2-6, 2009

Continuing Education Credit

The Center for Understanding in Conflict, as the Center for Mediation in Law, has been certified as follows:

- In New York, as an Accredited Provider of Continuing Legal Education in the State of New York by the New York State Continuing Legal Education Board. The Mediation Intensive Training will fulfill 39 NY MCLE credit hours (6.5 Ethics Credits; 19.5 Professional Practice Credits & 13 Skills Credits)
- In California, as a continuing legal education provider of Minimum Continuing Legal Education by the State Bar of California. The Mediation Intensive Training will qualify for MCLE credit in the amount of 32 hours, (8 hours Legal Ethics; 1 hour Law Practice Management; 1 hour Elimination of Bias). The Center is also an approved provider with the California Board of Behavioral Sciences.

For further information about the Center and our training schedule, visit our website at www.mediationinlaw.org

Mediation Intensive Training

Comments from prior participants:

"The concepts and exercises were extremely valuable, and I have already put them into practice. I feel as if I have new tools that I did not have before."

"This training was personally enlightening and professionally inspiring."

"This program's benefit was not so much about learning materials but in the drills, the role playing and the discussions. I learned about myself as much as anything."

"Truly the best workshop I've ever participated in."

About the Center

The Center for Understanding in Conflict, which includes the Center for Mediation in Law, has developed a unique approach to conflict resolution through deepening the understanding of those in conflict.

The conflict professional, meeting directly and simultaneously with all parties, actively supports the parties in working through their conflict together by helping them to understand and articulate what underlies their dispute.

That understanding becomes the basis for developing creative solutions that respect parties' differing perspectives, needs, interests and goals.

Over the last 25 years, the Center has trained thousands of lawyers, judges and other professionals in this approach in the United States, Canada, Europe and Israel.

This model is used in mediation, collaborative practice, nonprofit organizations, and other settings in which professionals are helping parties work through conflict.

MEDIATION INTENSIVE TRAINING

About the Training

The Mediation Intensive Training provides both experienced mediators and those new to the field with the perspective and skills necessary to work within the Center's model of mediation.

Participants learn what it takes to shift from a stance of advocacy to one of mediation – for professionals and parties alike.

Who Should Attend

The program is open to attorneys as well as other professionals working to integrate the principles of mediation into their practice.

Program Highlights

- Reaching an agreement to mediate
- Establishing parties' responsibility for decisions
- Supporting each party's autonomy while encouraging mutuality
- Understanding fully each party's point of view while remaining neutral
 - Clarifying issues and goals
- Integrating the law into mediation
 - Generating bases for decision other than law
- Developing creative options that address differing needs and interests
 - Working with parties' attorneys and other professionals

Methods and Outcomes

The learning addresses the practical, theoretical and personal dimensions of integrating a mediative perspective into your practice. Concise briefings introducing the five-stage model and tools of the Understanding-Based Approach alternate with demonstrations, simulations and role-plays designed to immerse the participants in the mediation process. Each participant has the opportunity to apply the concepts and skills introduced in the briefings, and to experience the emotional challenges faced by parties in dispute. Participants have described these different modes of learning and their interplay as enjoyable as they are engaging and rewarding.

UPCOMING TRAININGS: EAST COAST/WEST COAST

Fees

The program fee for each training is $1,350. An early registration discount of $100 applies to registrations received 30 days prior to the program commencement date.

Schedule

Each training begins Wednesday from 2:30pm to 9pm. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the sessions run from 9am to 9pm (with ample time for meals and breaks). Each training ends Sunday at 12noon.

To Register

Registration forms may be downloaded from the website at www.mediationinlaw.org. Online registration is available. Participants will be accepted in order of registration. We will confirm your reservation as soon as you are placed in the program. Class sizes are limited to facilitate individual learning. Due to the interdependent nature of learning, attendance at the entire program is necessary.

Training Dates

New York:

May 13-17, 2009

December 2-6, 2009

California:

March 18-22, 2009

September 30-October 4, 2009

Trainers

Catherine Conner, JD

Gary Friedman, JD

Jack Himmelstein, JD

Katherine Miller, JD

Information about our trainers is available at www.mediationinlaw.org

Locations

Our trainings are at residential conference/retreat centers. We recommend you stay at the facility to maximize your learning.

New York Site: Bailey Farms, 45 minutes north of New York City in Westchester County. Lodging and meals are an additional $480 (shared accommodations). The commuter fee (meals included) is $280. Private rooms, if available, are at additional cost. For more information, go to www.BaileyFarms.org.

California Site: Green Gulch Farm, located in Marin County, a rustic and unique facility within walking distance of Muir Beach and the Pacific Ocean. Housing costs (which include meals) are as follows: Private room—$650, Shared room—$450, Commuter fee—$200. For more information, go to www.sfzc.org.